

PEVOC 2011 in Marseille, France - First Announcement

PEVOC9

9th Pan-European Voice Conference

31st August - 3rd September 2011

<http://www.pevoc9.fr>

Together with the:

First European Voice Academy

Tutorials on the Human Voice

31st August 2011

&

Workshop of the European Laryngological Society

Theme: Micro-Phono-Surgery

3rd September 2011

Dear colleagues,

We are very pleased to invite you to the ninth Pan European Voice Conference (PEVOC9). It will be held on August 31st - September 3rd, 2011 in Marseille, France.

The Pan-European Voice conference has always been a great scientific, medical and artistic event. It focuses both on basic and applied scientific research, and on clinical assessment and treatment. It offers the opportunity for international voice researchers, voice therapists, voice teachers and singers to come together and share their knowledge, ideas and experience. PEVOC conferences are known to provide a forum for the presentation and discussion of current scientific and clinical research on the larynx and voice.

After previous meetings of the PEVOCs in London, Regensburg, Utrecht, Stockholm, Groningen, Graz and Dresden, we are proud to host PEVOC for the first time in France. It will be held in Marseille, a major French city on the Riviera Coast.

PEVOC9 will host two additional meetings :

- August 31st 2011 : the first meeting of the new European Academy of Voice, a european organization for education in the voice sciences.
<http://www.european-academy-of-voice.org/>
- September 3rd 2011 : workshop of the European Laryngological Society on the topic of micro-phono-surgery.
<http://www.elsoc.org/>

Structured sessions and workshops

Investigators, Clinicians, Therapists, Teachers, Singers and everyone working in the fields of Voice Physiology and Biomechanics, Singing Voice, Vocal Pathology, Occupational voice, Laryngology, Bioacoustics, Neurosciences and others are encouraged to contribute to this conference.

Free papers will be included in structured sessions in accordance with the topics. Clinical, artistic and scientific workshops will be concurrently held, allowing interested people to have the opportunity of interactive approach in small groups.

If you are interested to propose a workshop, do not hesitate to get in touch with Nathalie Henrich and Antoine Giovanni at the website address pevoc9@me.com

Keynote lectures

There will be two plenary sessions per day, for going deeply into one aspect of voice or opening to new disciplinary approaches.

- Daniele Schön (CNRS Marseille, France) - Cognitive Aspects of Singing Voice
- Jack Jiang (University of Madison, USA) - Voice Science and Vocal Effort
- Jean-Luc Schwartz (CNRS Grenoble, France) – Speech perception
- Jacqueline Gartner-Schmidt (University of Pittsburgh, USA) - Clinical Interpretation of Vocal Effort
- Mark Courrey & Sarah Schneider (University of San Francisco, USA) - Microsurgery and Voice Care in singers
- Matthias Echternach & Bernahrd Richter (Freiburger Institut für Musikermedizin, Germany) – Singing physiology assessment by means of dynamic real time magnetic resonance imaging, an example of what science could bring to singing pedagogy

Chairpersons

Professor Antoine GIOVANNI

CHU La Timone, Marseille, and Laboratoire Parole et Langage, Aix-en-provence

Dr. Nathalie HENRICH

Speech and Cognition Department, GIPSA-lab, Grenoble

Visit our website for more information: <http://www.pevoc9.fr/>

We hope very much to see you in end of August 2011 in Marseille !